“ Our Daddy was a wonderful man, father, provider, protector, uncle, friend, brother and grandfather. I'm so thankful that my daughter was able to meet him and that he was present in my life for my entire life. He taught me the value of giving back to the community and the importance of hard work, independence and education. I will always be his baybay and he will always be my dada (it's a family thing).

I'll always love and remember my uncle. As a child he made it clear that I welcomed in his home and when I was there he treated me as good as he treated his own. I'll never forget him paying for my cheerleader uniform without hesitation when my own father turned me down. That act of kindness was about 18yrs ago but it stuck with me and his kindness towards me was consistent.
