“ We were saddened to hear about the loss of your girls.Words of comfort are so hard to come by. I pray that God will wrap his arms around your family and give you the comfort today and the weeks to come.Gives me comfort to know they are enjoying God's promise which is to be at home with him.Their memory will live on thru the people who loved them.

*Prayerfully,

“ Although I never had the chance to meet Brianna & Sy'Mone I was extremely sad to hear about their passing. I have had a chance to read about how they have touched the lives of so many here at Oxford Schools.

Please know that I will keep your family in my thoughts and prayers. May your memories bring you comfort.

God Bless,

Leanne

“ I had never had the pleasure to have either of the girls in class, but they were always very polite delightful young ladies in the hallway. My students were very close with them and had many heartwarming stories to share. My thoughts and prayers are with you and your family through this incredibly horrific time. They both have a special place in heaven. May you find peace in the wonderful memories you have shared throughout the years.

“ Our prayers are with you all,
IN MEMORY
*You didn't know the tears you cried fell to rest on angel's wings
Bonding earthly sorrow with the joy that Heaven's promise brings.
The angel carries forth two tears
and will not let them part,
Forever they are joined as one;
They blend to form a heart.
A memory of your dear loves gone,
A promise of good things to come,
One tear is sorrow for your pain,
One tear is joy for Heaven's gain.
May you find comfort knowing
God's promises never fail.*

Stay strong and rely on God's love to get you through. We lost our son, and Abby's, brother (Abby is a classmate of the girls), last January 17th, he was a freshman at Oxford when he passed, it was an unexpected death. So our family knows the devastation a child's death brings. If you need to talk to anyone please give me a call or email me.

“ Our hearts are breaking with your families. As twins ourselves we rejoice in Gods love for taking you home together. We will forever miss your smiles, your laughter and your kindness. I see your "pose" as we called it. gathering at your locker by mine. They are in so much pain. I pray we can all find a way to remember the good times without such sadness. I tell my mom you girls had such good manners. excuse me was a word you used often as a way to get me to move aside from my locker. We didn't know each other well but were united as twins. RIP girls. We will see you on the other side. Godbless, The Kiracofe twins.

“ LaToya,
I am praying for you and you know that God will keep during this difficult time. I am deeply sadden about the girls, you know they were my babies! I am here for you and you call me no matter what time of the day or night it is. There are no words to describe the pain in my heart for you and the girls. The one thing that comforts me is knowing that the girls knew the lord and dedicated their lives to him. I can still see them smiling at me at church and hugging me everytime they saw me. I tell everyone that I speak to about how great of a mother you are to your children and your works of labor were revealed through the fruit of Brianna & Sy'Mone. God bless you and keep you.
