“ Dale Munson, known as Peaches, was much more than friend - he was like a big brother to me. During our childhood, he was the one who always had my back, protecting me and guiding me through life's ups and downs. He didn't just protect me: he loved me like a sister, with a deep and unwavering affection that I will always hold in my heart. We were part of the Chapman Street gang bound together by more than just friendship, but by the kind of love that lasts a lifetime. Peaches may no longer be with us, but his spirit lives in my heart.

Your sister, Charmin Jones.

“In Our Heart”

*We thought of you today.
But that is nothing new.
We thought of you yesterday.
And the day before that too.
We think of you in silence.
And often speak your name.
Now we share your memories.
And your pictures in a frame.
Your memory is our keepsake.
With which we will never part.
God has you in his keeping.
We will keep you in our heart.*
