Daniel Lewis was perhaps the last of my father's (Willie Wright) contemporaries. Daddy, like Dan, was an avid golfer and sportsman. I learned to be an avid golfer too! Daniel was a kind, patient and gentle man. Dan lead to Moonlighters' Golf League and in recent years Tarlton Small, Dan, Tony Wright and I played in the annual AKA golf outing. There is a memorial bench at the Pontiac Golf Course that list the names of golfers who have passed. Most of the names are friends of Dan and friends or relatives of all of us who love the game. Time to respectfully and another who loved the game, Daniel Clifton Lewis! Dan, you've hit your longest drive, straight down the middle, your approach shot is on the green within 10 feet of the hole. What a putt, to the back center of the hole,— home with the Master! Thank you for many years of fun times. Bobbie and family, we know the weeping endure for the night but joy will come in the morning. God blesses and keeps you always!
