“ My sweetest cousin, This was something I would of never thought I would have to go through,the loss of you took a piece of my soul,I will NEVER forget how you taught me that things may not be seen by others right but..they didn't have to be. I will never forget your warm loving heart when you took me in,how you laughed with me cried with me,we sat up hours playing rummy over bowls of macaroni & tomatoes..how you bought my son a crib for $15 and helped me redo it..how I called you when I was not feeling well & your words were "your in labor"..my memories are endless with you..my love,gratitude, thankfulness & courage I owe all to you..I will miss you endlessly..you touched so many many lives. Your days of worry are gone..your at peace. You look no further for acceptance as It lies all in front of you. No color No shame No racism No body shame No worries..your butterfly has set you free. I love you my cousin my sister my best friend. I will continue to tell your story so those beautiful grandchildren can always say yep that was my Nana. Enjoy life now with your mom,dad,brothers, aunties and I WILL SEE YOU AGAIN!
