“ I will never ever forget you. I will never ever forget how much you comforted me when I lost my sister. I'm so happy to have known you for as long as I did. You always think that you will have so much time to see someone and to be able to stop by a certain place and just know that you will see them there. I know that you will live on in your children because they are so much like you in each of their own way. I love you brother and I always will 💙💙 Wanda
