“ I worked with Fred in the Maintenance Department at the City of Pontiac for almost nine years. He was my best friend there amongst many memorable people. Just did a search for Fred on the internet and ran across this obituary. I was hoping to find him to share some thoughts and memories. I always thought that I could, but waited too long. I hadn't seen him for forty years. So sad to hear of his passing. I knew Fred to be kind, very intelligent, funny, a caring, proud parent and a man with great integrity. He was hugely into science fiction books and wrote a fanzine about it. He knew about the first Star Wars movie long before it was released and was so excited to see it that he inspired me to go to the first afternoon's showing of it. Who knew that it would become such a phenomenon. Fred. Of course! For many years the thought of my friendship with Fred has brought a smile to my face. This will continue whenever I think about him now and into the future. Love to you Fred. Thanks for being who you were. You enriched my life more than you could ever imagine. My thoughts go to Fred's wife Martha and to his family. I know he's missed.

“ Fred was a classmate of mine also at St. Fred's. He was rather quiet, but always kind and a gentleman- in addition to being in cahoots with one Voz (aka Mike Vosburg). I remembered peeking over at the doodles on their papers and marveling at all that talent bottled up in that high school classroom. Rest in peace, Fred.
