“ I never thought I would be faced to see this point in my life so fast. A woman who had the BEST two parents in this world. I am still feeling the lost of my mom from this past February but I know my dad's lost was much more painful than mine. I am now here on this earth, no mom, no dad and no sister but I know they are all together as it should be and they are sharing their love as it should be. And I know being here physically alone is what it may look like but I have God and I know I will be with them some day soon and when that happens, we as a family, the Williams family will be whole again. I have had the pleasure of being George H Williams daughter and I having the time to spend with him these last few months was priceless. For those who know me " I AM MY FATHER"!! I will miss you more than anyone can tell or will know, but knowing you missed my mommie more I'm ok. Rest in peace daddy, you are now whole again.

Love you always

Your Daughter (your baby girl)

“ I remember the first time I heard about barber shop George, I imagined him to be this big tall man but when I met him he was this petite man with a big smile. John Kennedy and barbershop George are having a reunion as they were good buddies. We will miss him. May God comfort the family and his friends during the trying times.
Sincerely

“ I know how difficult it is to lose someone, as difficult as it may seem, you must know that God will not put more on you than you can bear, neither will He leave you comfortless. Hold strong to the promises of God, love you all
