“ They say I'm sorry for your loss. They say your heart will mend. They say they're in a better place, & death is not the end.

They say they're reunited with loved ones gone before. They say that they'll be waiting
when we walk through heaven's door.

I feel their love in every word
of comfort they impart, knowing that each is spoken
from deep within the heart.

But all the words of comfort,
though kind, sincere, & true,
can't take away the emptiness
I'm feeling for you.

I love you, me sister, me friend girl, me family & is sadden he was a great man!Me condolences for the whole family.

God is our protection and source of strength. He is always ready to help us in times of trouble.

So we are not afraid when the earth quakes and the mountains fall into the sea.

We are not afraid when the seas become rough and dark and the mountains tremble. Selah

There is a river whose streams bring happiness to God's city, to the holy city of God Most High.

God is in that city, so it will never be destroyed. He is there to help even before sunrise.

Nations will shake with fear and kingdoms will fall when God shouts
and makes the earth move.

The Lord All-Powerful is with us. The God of Jacob is our place of safety. Selah

“ To my “BFF”, Barahka Hatchett, I’m so sorry for the loss of your dear Father. I have so many fond memories of your parents. I spent just about every day after school, “Bagley elementary”, at your house on South Blvd.

You were blessed with good & caring parents; they always made me feel welcome. I know this is a difficult time and I want you to know that I understand. May God be with you during this time and provide you with the peace only he can give. Love to you and your sisters.
