“ A farewell

It's with great sorrow that my mother's oldest brother, James H. White , my uncle & name sake passed away last night.

Many may remember him from the Sunoco gas station and Motor Homes he sold for years on the corner of Woodward & South Blvd. in Pontiac. Mi. I would like to believe that this was just his time to go on to the next step in this cycle of life. It's not just to be born & then we die. His spirit just returned to the source, that all. I like to believe that he has that big smile on his face as he begin to get things organized there.

When my uncle and aunt would come to visit us in Tenn , we would get excited. waiting on them to arrive, waiting on the sound of his big Cadillac or Lincoln's horns blaring. It was his Custom to do this as he turned down our street.

He would always give us a $1 bill, but this wasn't the only reason we got excited, but it helped. lol

It just happened that I wanted to join a Four H Club, that I had read about. They raise and exhibit farm animals and win ribbons. I asked my uncle to get me a pig!!!! They laughed about that. I was glad later that they didn't get me one. I settled for a dog.

It was my uncle James that suggested that my Uncle Evan get me a job at GM. He said one day as I was pumping gas in my uncle Evan's car, Evan's why don't you get Jimmie a job? Uncle Evans replied sure, you want a job. I started work the following Thursday, probably 5 days later.

I forgot to thank him.

“ Uncle James was a special man! He was a great man! I'd call him a tinkerer. Throughout his life's journey, he loved tinkering - with cars, motor homes, and in later years, self-designed and creative woodworking projects. Early on, he met Aunt Joan and she became the love of his life. They married, built a house.... and transformed that house into a HOME. A home filled with warmth and everlasting love. A HOME that welcomed everyone. He was at once - Husband, Father, Brother, Uncle, Cousin, Friend... But we all must face our mortality. Uncle James recently heard the clarion call and transitioned on. In fact, he's probably continuing his conversation with cousin Walee. (smile) FAMILY - We all miss him and will continue to do so, and we offer our most sincere condolences. But, LET'S CELEBRATE HIS LIFE!! We have wonderful memories of great times together, memories of his military service to our nation, memories of inspirational moments when Uncle James would roar with laughter, photos galore, and memories of just being. LIVE!!! Love You All. Leon & Jeanette Rollins & Family.
