“ Che Che, To lose a love one is hard, but to lose your mom that has to be the hardest pill to swallow. Don't try to swallow it all at once, take small pieces and you will make it one day at a time. People told me that it was going to get better, it doesn't but it get bearable. Che Che, we have known each other probably since we were 3 & 5 years old. Mrs Jewel was just like a mom and aunt to me. I can remember when you would come to Mama Ceil's house and we would play for hours. Keep encourage, don't give up on your faith. Our mothers are with the Lord and I know they are up there drinking coffee and talking about old times. Remember baby girl, all the good times and know that you did all you could for your mom. Love ya, your big sister.

Ceil - oh yeah, Hannah is not my last name anymore it is Owens.

“ Everyone said that I was aunt Jewels twin. My mom always said that I was her birthday present(her b-day is Mar.5th, mine Mar.4th). Growing up my siblings and I spent a lot of time in Pontiac with Aunt Jewel and Chi-Chi. One thing I will always remember is the spirit of help that Aunt Jewel had. She had a very big heart and was always willing to help those in need. After every conversation we ever had she would always tell me to stay prayful, and that God would work it out. Aunt Jewel, I know that you are in a better place, no more suffering, no more pain, at home with the Lord:) You will forever be in my heart and you are truly missed. Chi-Chi be encouraged and know that mama, me, Tonia and the kids are here for you. We love you!!

“ My Deepest Sympathy to Chelsea, Priscilla & Family:

My heart was broken when I received the call from Chelsea saying that her Mother passed away. Ms Worlds will Truly be missed. Ms Jewels was a person that was concern about others even though she was ill and in pain everyday, there was never a time when I visit, that she didn't have a smile on her face. I would sit on the end of her bed and The first thing she would say, "Betty" how you feeling, and how is Travon, doing, Is Martel ok. Next thing I knew it's a 1/2 hr to 45 mins of conversing with her. Ms Worlds always made me feel welcome in her home. She was caring, loving, A positive person with a warm heart, and always displayed love for her Daughter Chelsea. On my last visit before leaving I gave her a hug & kiss and told her that I loved her. She responds, you and Chelsea look out for each other. I think then, Ms Worlds knew the lord was ready for her and it was time for her to come home. God was calling for her.

Even though my heart is broken, I know she is in a better place, no more pain, worry or suffering.

“ ‘Ma’ as I affectionately called her would always sincerely ask, “How are you doing?” She would have answers to questions and situations that simply made sense. Sitting around the kitchen table with Ma and Chelsea we would discuss all matters of affairs from domestic to global including if the greens were seasoned right. Never judgemental always a sweetie. May Chels and the rest of the family take comfort in knowing that she is with God and feeling no pain.

*peace and blessings,
Imani*
