Ke'Juan Lamark Hatcher "Lou" was born December 20, 1989 in Pontiac, Michigan. He transitioned to glory on September 26, 2015 in Atlanta, GA.

Ke'Juan was the loving son of Michele L. Hatcher and Antonio Johnson.

Ke'juan fondly known as "Lou" accepted Jesus Christ as his Lord and Savior at a young age. He attended the Pontiac school system and later received his GED.

Ke'Juan was an aspiring rapper, writer and entertainer. He was very passionate about music which led him too Atlanta, Georgia to pursue his dream. He wrote and produced the videos "Move On," "Skys is the Limit," and

“What Up.”

Above all Lou was a family man and caring person. He cherished his maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. Pryntha L. Hill; his sisters, brothers and daughter, Kamora Ty-jae Wygant Hatcher. He was very helpful too all whom he encountered. He considered himself a mentor too many, especially his siblings and numerous young men in Atlanta, Georgia. He was a jokester and always brought smiles and joy wherever he went.

Ke’Juan leaves to cherish his memory His loving daughter, Kamora Ty-jae Wygant-Hatcher; mother, Michele L. Hatcher; father, Antonio Johnson; brothers, Nickolas Johnson and Christopher Nevils; sisters, Alicia Johnson, Candace Johnson, Danielle Johnson, Paris Johnson, “His Love” Akoshua Lee; great grandmother, Clarice Miller; grandmother, Geneva Johnson; and a host of uncles, aunts, cousins and friends.

Ke’Juan was preceded in death by his maternal grandparents, Mrs. Pryntha L. Hill and John E. Abrams; Paternal grandfather Ollie Johnson Jr.; aunt, Sandy Black; uncle, Jessie (Mike) Varice.
