“ We had so many memories from us joking to just enjoying each other's company, our friendship as a whole. You were a true blessing words can't explain like we talked about so much did so much growing there was never a dull moment and God truly gained an amazing angel because you loved God and the word and we could talk about with no shame; you would tell me don't worry, God is always there no matter what is going on he understands and knows what is best. Thank you for being an amazing friend, a sister I never got to have and just an amazing woman to anyone who came in contact with you. You were an amazing mother and just was full of joy. I definitely will miss our small talks on FB.
