“ I been knowing Willie Bee from the time she married my cousin Benny Leigh. Her persona and personality seems to always remain the same, like seasons. Beautiful springs, warm summers, majestic falls, and comforting winters. The same greeting, the same comforter, the same smile each and every time of her presence. She never differed.

Her demeanor always seems to be of peace, and promise of a tomorrow. Though I did not see her often, but times I did see her; It was like her season never changed; the same uplifting smile, pleasing warm personality and symbols of dignity, respect and sincerity.

My love and condolences to my cousins, her children. Such a beautiful woman was Willie Bee.
